

Large and Small Animal Decontamination

This course will review when decontamination of animals is important for public health and safety. how to set up a decontamination line for large and small animals and includes a lab session with decontamination of both large and small animals.