

How to Improve Your Diagnostic Skills

Hosted by: Idexx
Mike Saunier

Description: Things I wish they would have taught me in vet school. Understanding how our brains works, mistakes we love to make, and how to avoid them.

Presenter: Adam Birkenheuer, DVM, PhD, DACVIM

Bio: Adam Birkenheuer is a professor of small-animal internal medicine at North Carolina State University College of Veterinary Medicine. In addition to his clinical duties in the small-animal hospital, Dr. Birkenheuer is a co director of the Vector Borne Disease Diagnostic Laboratory. His research program is focused on the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of companion-animal infectious diseases.

Date: June 11, 2026

Time: 6-7pm registration and table games
7-9pm dinner and presentation

Location: Diamond Grill
924 3rd St
Alexandria, LA 71301

CE: 2 hours